This 2022 model Chausson 777 GA Titanium Premium is based on a Ford Transit chassis with a 2.0 L 170 BHP engine paired to an automatic gearbox. As we step inside you are greeted by a spacious, thoughtfully designed interior. At the rear, you'll find twin single beds that can easily be converted into a large double, giving you the flexibility to choose the setup that suits you best. Underneath your bedroom there is a large garage with external access, providing ample storage for outdoor gear, luggage, or any adventure essentials. Toward the front, the large lounge area is perfect for relaxing during the day and can be transformed into a roomy double bed at night, making it ideal for accommodating guests or family members. The lounge also comes with traveling seats neatly concealed under the settees and can easily be set up when required. In the central living area, you'll find a fully equipped kitchen that includes a three-burner gas hob, large oven, grill, and a 167L fridge/freezer combo, ensuring you can easily prepare meals during your travels. The spacious countertop and well-thought-out storage make meal prep a breeze. Towards the rear of the motorhome, you'll find the washroom on one side and a separate shower on the opposite side. With the use of a sliding door and the washroom door, this area can be completely closed off from either the rear bedroom or the front of the motorhome, offering privacy from both ends. Extras include Dometic habitation air conditioning, awning, solar panel, reversing camera and alloy wheels.
